HEADLESS BODY PACKED IN TRUNK.

The most brutal crime committed in greater Boston since the death of Susan Geary, a chorus girl, four years ago, and one much resembling it in its details, was disclosed last night by the discovery of a torso of Mrs. Honorah Jordan, an actress, aged 23 years, of Somerville, in a trunk in a boarding-house at 7 Hancock street, on Beacon Hill, that city. Later the head and bones of the limbs were found in the furnace of the Jordan home, at Somerville, and the scalp, hair and other gruesome remains were taken from the kitchen range of the house.

Chester Jordan, aged 29 years, an actor, of Somerville, is held by the police, charged with the murder, and, according to the officers, he made a complete confession of the crime.

According to Jordan's confession, he accidentally killed his wife Tuesday night in a quarrel at their home, and, becoming desperate over what he had done, he went out and bought a butcher's knife and hacksaw, cut up the body and placed the torso in a trunk. He then planned to take the steamer Harvard Wednesday night for New York and throw the parts of the body overboard. The fact that the Harvard was laid off owing to an accident disarranged his plans, and he was obliged to hire a hackman to take the trunk to a Boston boarding-house to await a more favorable opportunity.

The discovery of the crime was due to the suspicions of the hackman, James Collins, who had in mind the numerous robberies which have taken place about Boston recently, and surmising from its weight that the trunk contained silver ware, notified the police.

Collins reported that he had taken the trunk from the North Station in the morning, it having come in from Somerville on a local train. The hackman stated that he left Jordan and the trunk that afternoon at 7 Hancock street.

Sergt. Crowley was detailed to go to the house and investigate. Jordan was not in, but the officer was shown the back room on the second floor which Jordan had engaged, and found the trunk. At this time the trunk was not opened. About 5:20 o'clock Jordan returned and was commanded to open the trunk.

Jordan did not appear nervous or alarmed, but hesitated to open the trunk, and it was not until after considerable argument that he produced the key. Turning his head, Jordan threw up the cover of the trunk and then sank back on his knees, burying his face in his hands and sobbing.

Sergeant Crowley staggered back aghast at the disclosure, for in the open trunk before him lay a sickening mass of hacked flesh, a woman's torso filling the greater part of the trunk, while pieces of flesh from other parts of the body were stuffed into the corners.

NEGRO AND WIFE PROTEST.

Winfield F. Cozart, a negro, of Atlantic City, N. J., yesterday filed a formal complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Southern Railway Company, in which he charges that the company discriminated against him and his wife while they were passengers on a train from Atlanta to Washington, by compelling them to ride in a "jim crow" car.

He asked the commission to issue an order requiring the railway company to furnish the same accommodations to negroes as are furnished to white persons. The commission, about a year ago, decided that railroads could segregate colored passengers, but must provide for them the same accommodations as for white passengers.

YOUNG WIFE A SUICIDE

Ill health caused Mrs. Charles A Small, about 26 years old, to commit suicide at York, Pa., yesterday. During the absence of her husband Mrs. Small went to the bath room, turned on the gas and then shot herself.

The husband returned home yesterday afternoon, and, upon entering the house, detected the odor of gas. He went to the bath room, and, opening the door, stumbled over his 15-months-old baby. Mrs. Small lay upon the floor, blood flowing from a wound in her right temple, and blood was also spattered upon the baby's garments.

Mr. Small carried the baby to another room, turned off the gas and then summoned neighbors to his assistance. The young couple had been married only a few years, the bride being a daughter of William A. Smyser, one of York's wealthy citizens. For some time, Mrs. Small had been in delicate health.

A DUAL LIFE.

The principal development at Omaha, Nebraska, of the Bostin murder case yesterday was the proof that for months Dr. Frederick T. Bustin, who was murdered mysteriously as he was about to enter his own home at an early hour Wednesday morning, had been leading a double life, and that while he maintained an expensive establishment out on Farnam Hill, he also maintained a suite of rooms on lower Douglas street, near to the proscribed district. In the Farnum Hill district Dr. Rustin maintained a wife and two children with everything that money could purchase; in the Douglas street suite he maintained another woman. This woman, so far as the police have been able to discover, was the last person to talk with him before he was shot.

KILLS WOMAN HE LOVES.

In the presence of several women, Chief of Police Hinkle, of Seneca, S. C. late Wednesday shot and killed Mrs. E L. Anderson, a young widow, fired two shots at her little daughter, but missed her and then put a bullet through his own head.

The tragedy occurred in the reception room of the home of Mrs. Anderson. Chief Hinkle had been infatuated with Mrs. Anderson. Wednesday afternoon the chief entered the reception room, approached Mrs. Anderson and asked:

"Edith, are you going to marry me?"

Mrs. Anderson, laughingly, answered: "You know I am not."

Hinkle immediately drew a pistol and fired two bullets into Mrs. Anderson, causing instant death. Her little daughter screamed and Hinkle fired at her without effect. Then standing over Mrs. Anderson's body, he put the pistol to his head and blew out his brains, falling dead on the woman's body.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 4, 1908.

IT WAS decided by the Court of Appeals in Staunton on Wednesday that the Norfolk poll tax case, involving the payment of poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting and the correct interpretation of the "personal payment" clause, which was expected to be transferred from Richmond and argued at the present Staunton term of the court, will not be so transferred, but will remain on the Richmond docket and will not be heard until after the fall election. Several days ago the Court of Appeals allowed a writ of error and supersedeas in the case of Tilton against Herman. The action of the law and chancery court of Norfolk was thus set aside for the time being. The case is on the docket of the court for Richmond and will be heard at the November term. A report emanated from Staunton to the effect that the case had been sent from that city to Richmond. Such is not the case. The cause was originally set for hearing in Richmond, and there has been no order directing that it be sent to Staunton for consideration. The hearing of the case will not take place until after the November election, and the issuance of the writ of error displaces the order of the law and chancery court of the city of Norfolk, leaving the voters in the position as if there had been no proceeding whatever. The matter as it stands now presents to the court the direct and pointed question: "What is meant by the term of personal payment of poll taxes?" Judge Martin, of Norfolk, held that the voters should go to the office of the treasurer and personally tender the money to the officer, and that no other voters had a right to appear on the list. In case the decision of the lower court is upheld, it will be left to the voters to say in what manner they paid—in person and with cash, in person and with a check, check sent by messenger or mailed, or money sent by messenger to the treasurer. There is not a treasurer in any county or city in the state who can tell the names of fifty per cent. of the voters and whether they paid "in person" or by check, so that the voters would be masters of the situation, provided they have their names on the books. They can say they paid in cash, and there will be none to dispute the assertion.

A COMBINATION of all the independent hand blown glass making plants of the United States was set on foot at Pittsburg on Wednesday when a meeting was held to form preliminary plans It is said that $7,000,000 worth of glass plants from the Atlantic Ocean to the western edge of the gas belt will be taken into the merger, which will mean opposition to the American Window Glass Company, which now controls about one-half of the $15,000,000 glass trade of the country. The latter company known otherwise as the glass trust, does not appear to have taken kindly to the attempt at forming another combination and yesterday permitted it to be circulated that, should there be any such move made, it would not be possible to cut the prices of glass to $1 a box, which would perhaps drive all competition from the market. The present price of glass is $1.75 a box. It is asserted that the trust can cut this to $1 and make more money than can the new concern selling at $2 a box. This it is hoped the trust may be forced to do.

A TRAIL of graft extending no one knows how far through the army may be uncovered by a general court-martial which has been ordered by direction of President Roosevelt. Among the charges which it is said will be brought before the court are fraudulent drawing of forage, usury and other serious irregularities. By a special order of the War Department issued on Wednesday, a general court-martial has been appointed, to convene at Fort Wayne, Mich., September 29, "for the trial of such persons as may be brought before it." Army scandals in official and social life are becoming entirely too common.

REPORTS given out from government sources state that the Panama canal will be finished within the next five years, but Representative Denby, who saw Mr. Taft at Middle Bass Island a few days ago, says that fifteen years is the shortest space of time in which the United States may expect to use the canal.

MR. SLEMP, state republican chairman, says he believes Taft will carry Lynchburg! Well! Well! He might as well said Alexandria. But Mr. Slemp is talking loud to keep up his courage.

A plea of guilty was entered today in Justice Gould's court by Victor G. Bloede, of Baltimore, indicted on a charge of defrauding the United States government in connection with an ink contract with the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. A fine of $5,000 was assessed, which Bloede paid in cash.

The Weather Bureau bulletin today says: The weather continues fair over practically the entire country. The temperature has fallen in the Atlantic states, and during last night frost formed in Vermont. The temperature will rise in the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic states, and will change but little in the southeast.

Reports received by the republican managers in this city from Indiana say that the republicans are alarmed over the situation in that state. The indications are that the state will go democratic.

He was 55 years old, and leaves a widow and young daughter.

Upon invitation of Secretary of State Root, Turkey, Persia, and Russia have been asked to participate in the international opium conference to be held at Shanghai, China, beginning January 1909, together with the other nations that have already appointed delegates—France, Germany, China, Japan, Portugal, Great Britain and the United States. The conference will seek to formulate international rules for control of the traffic with the aim of eradicating the vice of opium smoking. The questions will be discussed not only from a commercial aspect, but from the standpoint of morals and science. The conference itself is the outcome of plans originally drawn by Secretary of State Root. China and Japan are energetically waging war against the vice in their own borders and actively cooperating to completely suppress it.

Dr. H. Howard Sayers, a prominent physician of North Fork, W. Va., was shot and killed yesterday by W. Wesley Wilkes, of Keystone. The shooting took place on a Norfolk and Western Railway train at Keystone. The two men had been enemies, and, it is alleged, the doctor had threatened to kill Wilkes on sight. When they met, Sayers attacked Wilkes, choking him and beating him in the face. Wilkes got a pistol out of his handbag and fired three times, all the shots taking effect. Wilkes was arrested. Dr. Sayers was a native of Wytheville.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 4—The early recovery continued through the first hour, prices showing advances of 1 to 2 points. There was evidence that the market had been oversold on the reaction yesterday. The room continues full of bullish talk on Union Pacific properties. Gains of about one point were made in other stocks wherever buying orders appeared. Trading all through the forenoon was small. After the recovery of 1 to 2 points fluctuations around the room were narrow and transactions small and few in number.

Thomson, aged 77 years, one of the most frugal millionaires in St. Louis, Mo., and for many years a conspicious figure in St. Louis financial affairs, died Wednesday night at the home of his son in Old Orchard, a suburb. It was his custom to buy clothing at little outlay of expense and wear the apparel as long as it would last.

Walter Beckham received six months in the workhouse in police court of Washington yesterday. Beckham was convicted of having slashed the throat of his sweetheart, Blanche Davis, near the M street bridge, in June. The Davis girl was in the courtroom, her neck and face being badly scarred.

A local hotelkeeper declared that Thomas L. Hisgen, independence league candidate for president, played his violin in Binghamton, N. Y., in 1903 to draw crowds and then sold axle grease, sometimes eating a bit of the grease to demonstrate its harmlessness. The hotel man produces registers with Hisgen's signature to prove his story.

Spiegle & Co., was arrested. The police, who are investigating the shooting said that from what they learned, George Spiegle was not responsible for the quarrel and that he shot his brother in self-defense.

After jousting in the municipal courts with Joseph Leiter, millionaire coal man, in a suit of several thousand dollars back salary, Hugh Crabbe, former steward of the Leiter family, was himself sued yesterday for $25,000 by Miss Mary Mattes, a young and pretty girl of Chicago, Ill., who alleges breach of promise to marry. A daring attempt at assault and robbery was made on Miss Goldie Silverstein, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Silverstein, of Baltimore, on Wednesday afternoon, in one of the large office buildings on Fayette street by a man whom the police refuse to name. The fact that the man was foiled in his attempt was due only to the cleverness of Miss Silverstein, who refused to be enticed into an empty office on one of the upper floors.

Weak from the loss of blood from a self-inflicted gash in his throat, Peter Karl, aged 42 years, a cigarmaker, who has for several years made his home at 1201 west Cross street, Baltimore, staggered up to the kitchen door of the residence of Mrs. George Lauten, on Queen Anne road, Windsor Hills, about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and begged that something be done to relieve his suffering. He told Mrs. Lauten and Mrs. E. A. Caulk, a visitor from St. Michaels, Md., that he had cut his throat with a razor Wednesday afternoon in Vickers' Woods, which are near the Lauten residence.

Eight hundred quarts of glycerine, which was being sent by boat by the Mariet a Torpedo Company, to Huntington, W. Va., exploded near Belleville, 20 miles below Parkersburg, yesterday evening. Two persons were injured, four houses were wrecked, and many others damaged. George Spencer, the man in charge, had gone ashore for his supper, leaving a red signal light, which was overturned by the waves of a passing steamboat. This ignited the sawdust in which the glycerine cans were packed. Mrs. James Shumway and daughter, Hattie, were blown entirely out of their house and were badly injured.

Gill was shot through the mouth, and Paine was wounded twice. Both men were taken to a hospital, where Paine is at the point of death. In response to a telephone message from the Wolff house to the effect that burglars were in the dwelling, Gill, Paine and Policeman Obermeyer hurried to the place and surrounded the house. The men immediately came from the rear of the Wolff home and began to fire at the officers. The attack was so sudden that the men had practically no chance to return the fire, and both fell. The burglars escaped.

Every sort of denial has been applied to the charge printed yesterday in a weekly "society" publication that the Colony Club, the most exclusive woman's club in New York, is a gathering place of "exclusive inebriates."

That United States Senator Smoot, a leader of the Mormon Church, did some quite little missionary work at Boston yesterday on his arrival from Washington was evidenced by the release late yesterday of some 15 immigrants detainted on suspicion of receiving financial assistance from the Mormon elders.

New sensations are expected in the Ruef case following the issuance of a warrant at San Francisco, charging E A. S. Blake, a contractor, with offering John M. Kelly, a venireman, a thousand dollars to vote for the release of Ruef. The prosecution claims it has evidence to show that Ruef's attorneys hired Blake.

Governor Hanley caused a political sensation today when he issued a call for an extra session of the Indiana legislative to convene September 17. Governor Hanley realizes that his term expires the first of the year and that, if several of his proposed reforms are not enacted at once, they may never be, as the republican politicians don't seem to favor them.

John Cleveland, 23, formerly of Worchester, Mass., inhaled gas in the rooms of John S. Rooney, an actor, and was found by Rooney today in New York. Cleveland is the son of Mrs. Mary Conroy. His name was changed to Cleveland by an act of the legislature. He has been cashier of a restaurant there, but lost his position and became despondent.

Fifty members of the Iowa general assembly at a joint stand pat caucus lasting nearly all night agreed not to attend today's republican senatorial caucus. A bolt of thirty members would be sufficient to present an election of a senator at the present special session of the assembly. Friends of Governor Cummins who succeeded in forcing a resolution for an election at the present session are furious at the action.

Agnes Bole, 18 months old daughter of Mr. William Bole, of Trenton, N. J., was killed this morning by being shot. Convicted of being a member of a group organized to change the existing form of Russian society, Princess Alexandrovna Tchercisky, of an ancient family and distantly related to the Czar, was sent today with 38 of her followers to spend a long period at penal servitude in Siberia. While the group did not teach violence, its members urged a movement for the gradual weakening of the autocracy and the freeing of the people.

When Zia Bey, former chief of the Turkish palace secret service, lands at London from the Mauretania next week, on which steamer he fled from New York last Wednesday, he will be met by agents of the Turkish Reform Movement who will offer him immunity from punishment if he will return to Constantinople and become the star witness in the pending investigation of charges against the fallen officials of the old Turkish regime.

The Supreme Court may be called upon to say who is the republican nominee for Governor of Michigan. Returns from the 83 counties of the state, with only 8 precincts missing, give Governor Warner, running for third term, a plurality over Dr. Bradley of 391 out of a total vote of 200,000. The Warner people charge illegal voting in the cities. The Bradley workers claim that in a number of backwoods counties, more votes were given Warner in the primary than were cast for all candidates in the last presidential election.

Today's Telegraphic News

New York Politics.

New York, Sept. 4.—With the state conventions of the two parties only ten days off neither the democrats nor republicans of New York have settled upon their candidates for governor. The leaders declare that the "popular will shall rule" and at present it really looks as though they meant it and that the question would be left for the conventions to decide. In order to test the popularity of Hughes candidacy in Greater New York, Congressman Parsons, chairman of the New York county republican committee has decided to ask the voters in at least ten of the 36 assembly districts of Manhattan and the Bronx to express their opinion by ballot whether the governor should be renominated. This will be done at the primaries next Tuesday. On the result of this test will largely depend is thought the course to be taken by Mr. Parsons, who will control the 187 delegates from New York county. Governor Hughes friends assert the only outcome will be to register the wishes of the district leaders. Besides Hughes the only other names that are likely to go before the republican convention are those of Horace White, Speakers Wadsworth and Wm. R. Berrie, of Brooklyn.

Because Judge Alton B. Parker made a call upon Chairman Mack, of the democratic national committee yesterday and offered his services for the campaign the boom for him for governor on the democratic ticket received an impetus. Charles F. Murphy has not yet let it be known whom he favors although it is said that he prefers Martin W. Littleton. The out-and-out Bryan men are talking for Congressman Sulzer. Lieut. Gov. Chanler is still in the running. For a last conference on campaign matters before the departure of National Chairman Mack for the west the members of the eastern democratic campaign committee met this afternoon. R. S Hudsepth of New Jersey who will conduct the campaign in the east was present and the whole situation was gone over in detail. Chairman Mack leaves this evening for Chicago. H. V. Sheffington, of Boston was today placed in charge of the labor bureau at the democratic headquarters.

Baker's Will Probated.

Boston, Sept. 4.—The sensational fight over the estate of Walter Farnsworth Baker, the wealthy Harvard man who died at Bogota, N. J., under mysterious circumstances, which had been made by his brother, Edward Baker, in an attempt to have the will disallowed, came to an abrupt end yesterday, with the filing in the Supreme Court of an agreement as to a final decree and affirms the will as allowed by the probate court.

By its terms Natilie Hurd, the little daughter of the people with whom Baker was living when he died, received $200,000. The child died shortly afterward and her share reverted to her parents, Frank and Helen Bray Hurd.

Edward Baker contested the will, claiming undue influence, but the probate court allowed it and the case was to have been carried to the Supreme Court.

In the decree issued yesterday all parties waive appeal from the decision of the probate court. The consideration attaching to such an agreement is not made public.

Reconciliation.

Paris, Sept. 4.—Whatever the differences between James H. Colfelt, of New York, and his handsome and talented wife, which are believed to have led the latter to attempt suicide in her apartments in the Columbia Hotel, Wednesday midnight, the couple are likely to be reconciled as the result of the wife's act. Mr. Colfelt arrived in Paris today from St. Malo and immediately went to the hospital where his wife was taken after firing two shots in her breast. He made arrangements to have her taken to a private hospital and announced that he would remain with her. Mrs. Colfelt is believed to be out of danger. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Colfelt will make any statement as to the cause of the attempted suicide. Mr. Colfelt brought his five year old son back with him, the removal of which by the father, when he left Paris several weeks ago, caused the the mother much despondency.

Blew out His Brains.

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 4.—Before the deputy who summoned him to attend the inquest over the body of his wife murdered in June, and whose body was exhumed Sunday, Daniel Donohue blew out his brains late last night. Today the police are looking for Joseph Berry as directed by a note left by Donohue.

"I'm innocent of the crime," said the note. "If you find Jos. Berry you will have the man who committed the murder, or who had it done." The activity of the police in the case followed the discovery of the woman's clothes hidden under a factory. With the new evidence they furnished the woman's body was taken from the grave and the coroner prepared to reopen the case. Berry, it is alleged, was formerly the husband of Mrs. Donohue. He is said to have married her fifteen years ago in Birmingham, Pa. Subsequently they quarreled and separated.

Crew Drowned.

Badajose, Portugal, Sept. 4.—Within sight of their frantic families on the shore but one hundred yards away, the crew of fifty of the Portugese steamer Luiza were drowned today in the stranding of the vessel off Finger Dafoz. The Luiza was from Brazil and went on the rocks during a heavy sea. Hundreds flocked to the shore when the vessel was seen to be in distress including relatives of the doomed men. The sea was two rough for any vessel to put out to the rescue and the anguished spectators, many of whom tried to throw themselves into the sea, watched the crew drop from the rigging to certain death. The tragedy was enacted close enough to shore for the victims to be recognized.

Suicide on Church Steps.

Pittsburg, Sept. 4.—Shouting "amen" at the top of his voice, a man supposed to be Arnold Roberts of Montclair, N. J., sat down on the steps of the Denny Methodist Episcopal, Church here today, and after biting the neck from a bottle containing carbolic acid, swallowed the contents. He died five minutes later. A letter of recommendation on stationary bearing the name of Leon Rheims Company, New York importers, was found in his clothing. A colonist railroad ticket from Jersey City, N. J., to Los Angeles and a trunk check to the same destination were also found on the body.

Democratic Plans.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 4.—The conference of democratic leaders to be held in Chicago next Tuesday will be most important. Over the telephone today, Mr. Bryan notified the Chicago headquarters that every big leader was expected to be there to learn what he wanted done in the last days of the campaign.

Reports of "scouts" that have been canvassing several states, will be considered at this conference and one or two national committeemen will have to explain rumors of trades with republicans that have been unearthed during the last fortnight. Following the conference, Messrs. Bryan and Kern will go to Peoria, Ill., where the presidential candidate will make a set speech. The pair will then separate, Bryan invading the east, his running mate starting on a speech making tour that will include all of the states of the Pacific slope and the Rocky Mountains.

Mr. Bryan held a conference with Dr. P. L. Hall, vice-chairman of the national committee, today. Dr. Hall reported that the popular subscription idea is bringing in plenty of campaign funds.

Herman Ridder, editor of the New York States Zeitung, who fought Bryan in previous campaigns, was closeted with Bryan for two hours and left later for Chicago to participate in conferences with the democratic leaders on Monday and Tuesday. After leaving Bryan, Ridder said:

"I told Mr. Bryan that, from careful investigation, I was convinced that the democratic national ticket would be elected this fall. I have found in every section of the country bitter resentment against the republicans among members of their own party because of the attitude of the leaders on tariff questions. All the Germans are with Bryan."

DEATH OF LORD SACKVILLE-WEST.

Lionel Sackville-West, second Baron Sackville, died at Knole Park, Sevenoaks, London, yesterday. He had been ill for sometime. Lord Sackville was born in 1827, and served his country in the diplomatic service. He was British minister to the United States from 1881 to 1888. At the request of President Cleveland he was recalled in October 1888. It was during the Harrison-Cleveland campaign that a letter from minister West came to light in which he advised a supposed naturalized Englishman to vote for Cleveland. The letter was used against Mr. Cleveland, and he asked for the minister's recall on the ground of interfering in American politics. This letter was generally conceded to be a trap set to embarass the British minister, whose recall was at once requested. The request not being promptly complied with the Department of State, on the 30th of October, sent Sackville his passports. Sackville's dismissal by Cleveland ended his diplomatic career. He published a phamphlet, in which he said that a trap into which he fell at Washington was a Fenian conspiracy.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an east bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to La Grande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. 'I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a death-like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whisky. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarroea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into La Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into La Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." SCHOOL BOARD.

At the monthly meeting of the City School Board held last night there were present, Capt. Herbert Bryant, chairman, and Messrs. Stabler, Yates, Ramsay, Thomson, Bradshaw, Boothe, Smoot and the Superintendent.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Stabler, from the committee on school houses and furniture, reported that he had gone over all the school buildings and that comparatively few repairs had been ordered. In Peabody building a new connection had been made in the water pipes; the cupola on Hallowell building and the plastering in that building had been repaired, some glass put in and the chimney topped; at Washington building the fences, outbuildings and cellar, etc., had been whitewashed, the roof repaired and the furnaces put in order; a stairway at Academy building leading to the third floor had been built by the only bidder for the work—S. D. DeVaughn; at Seaton building some glass had been put in and some repairs made to the porch and new curtains had been ordered for Academy and Seaton buildings.

Several bills for repairs and supplies were ordered to be paid.

The Superintendent reported that all those who presented themselves for the examinations held in July had passed those examinations and on his motion they were elected substitute teachers. For the white schools, Misses Fannie V. Burke and Amanda R. Carne and Mr. Mahlon H. Janney. For the colored schools, A. G. Islar.

The chairman submitted to the board and turned over to the clerk the receipts from the city treasurer for the money received from the Southern Railway Co. for rent to August 1st for the old Brent building.

The clerk was directed to pay over to the city treasurer the amount paid out by the city engineer for tearing down the old Brent building on the site of which the new school building is to be erected.

The superintendent reported that he had prepared a copy of the agreement all the teachers were to sign setting aside one per cent. of their salaries for the pension fund, ordered by the state.

The clerk was directed to commence on Monday next, September 7th, issuing permits for the children to attend the schools.

The board then adjourned.

EXCURSION YESTERDAY.

About 2,500 people accompanied the Elks' Dramatic Club to Marshall Hall yesterday and the day was one of real pleasure. The races were the principal feature of the sports and thousands lined the banks watching the yachts. Many pleasure crafts from Washington were also on hand to witness this interesting spectacle.

The committee and judges deserve great credit for the manner in which everything was conducted, especially among so many boat owners and in determining the handicaps. The following were those who had charge of the races: Referee, Thos. Chauncey; starter, H. Fleischmann; judges at the finish, J. F. Birrell, C. B. Marshall, and T. F. Kelley; clerks of the course, E. J. Fleming and D. E. Robey. The first race in the speed boat class was won by the Mae, owned by Mr. Bruce Emerson. In the race it is said that both the Kindo and the Tryto were disabled and compelled to withdraw. The second race, that for cruising launches, resulted in a victory for the Victor II, owned and piloted by V. Emerson. She had 40 minutes' handicap over the Augusta, owned by Admiral Calmes, which started from scratch, and finished second. This race was exciting, the launches finishing less than two minutes apart. Nine runabout launches faced the starter in the third and last event, which was won by the Zephyr from scratch. This speedy little craft gave a time allowance of 15 minutes to the other contestants and was ably handled by George Chadwick, her owner, who was accompanied by his wife, who acted as pilot. The prizes, which are three handsome loving cups, will be awarded the contestants later. Although it was the first race of its kind ever attempted by this organization, it must be said that it acquitted itself nobly, and barring the misunderstanding and accident in the first race the others went off as smoothly as could be expected.

It is said that the Dramatic Club will make these races an annual event.

The cake walks last night was a most enjoyable feature. The Chadwick boat which won the last race was owned and built by Mr. John B. Chadwick.

THE GIRL FROM MISSOURI.

"The Girl From Missouri" is a four act comedy-drama of a family of Missourians who go farther west and start a new life. The girl meets an outlaw and falls in love with him. Later he appears at her door wounded, and she takes him in. Then she plans how he may escape the posse, for there is a price upon his head. The plot is so surprisingly unravelled that none can guess with certainty its final outcome until the curtain falls. All new scenery, especially painted by one of the leading scenic artists, is carried, besides fine electrical effects. This play comes to the Opera House next Monday night.

THE BALLOON.

Orville Wright made a flight in his aeroplane at Fort Myer yesterday evening. While making the second circle of the drill grounds Mr. Wright pulled the lever which controls the planes in the wrong direction and he was compelled to descend in order to avoid running into some wires. The machine encircled the grounds once and was half way round the field when the mishap occurred. The aeroplane was in the air for one minute and fifteen seconds.

MUST REMOVE THE ARK.

It will be remembered that some time ago the religious people of this community banded themselves together with the determination to have an ark, which was being used as a gambling and drinking resort, especially on Sunday, and which was located opposite Jones's Point, removed from its moorings and the sanctity of the Sabbath upheld. The Maryland authorities came to their rescue and business on the boat ceased. Nothing had been heard from the ark for about 12 months when it was again towed to a point opposite the Dyke, Fairfax county, and business opened anew. These same people learned of the ark's presence and appealed to the authorities of Fairfax county. In answer to their request the commonwealth's attorney and sheriff of that county yesterday proceeded to the Dyke, secured a boat, went aboard the craft and notified the owners that they must either quit business or be prosecuted.

SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS.

There are firms in this city which need no introduction to the public at large, but it is always a pleasant thing to remember friends who think of you. As will be seen by an advertisement in today's paper the Hamilton Cigar Company are still doing business at the same old stand and although established since 1889 has never had occasion to change its brands of cigars. The firm consists of Messrs. Frank M. Hamilton, August H. Oehlert and J. P. Steiner, three enterprising gentlemen who have built the business of the plant till it now ranks with the foremost cigar manufactories in the south. The goods they sell have added to their success because they hold quality paramount to everything else. All first class houses handle their goods.

WANT HEALTHY WORKROOMS.

President Frank A. Kidd, of Columbia Typographical Union, of Washington, and other officers of that organization, have been requested to co-operate with the international union in the fight for healthier conditions in composing rooms. In this connection it is stated that the cases of several union printers who have contracted tuberculosis while working in printing offices throughout the United States will be brought up at the international congress on tuberculosis, to be held in Washington from September 21 to October 12. It is understood that President Kidd and Secretary Seibold, of Columbia Union, will bring about an investigation as to health conditions in about 70 composing rooms in Washington.

HARBOR LINES.

The city and business interests of Alexandria were well represented by the large attendance at the hearing given by Major Spencer Cosby, Corps of Engineers, United States Engineer Office, at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce today, to consider the locating of permanent harbor lines for this city. Major Cosby went fully into the matter and a general discussion of the lines followed, during which some slight changes in the proposed lines were suggested which were thought to be advantageous to the city, which changes Major Cosby will recommend if found practicable. It is hoped that the result of this hearing will shortly eventuate in the government removing the bar, now in front of the city, from the river.

WASHINGTON MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.

The Monument Association held a meeting this evening in the office of Norton & Boothe. President W. B. Smoot presided, and A. J. Wedderburn, was secretary. This is the first meeting held since the drawing of lots. A report was submitted by the secretary in which he recommended that arrangements be made to supply the purchasers of additional lots and that an appropriation be made to begin the work on the streets. Both suggestions were adopted and Messrs. Wedderburn and Slaymaker on behalf of the association and A. D. Brockett on behalf of the lot owners were appointed to arrange for this work. Mr. Boothe from the finance committee submitted a report showing most careful and satisfactory financing of the work in hand.

ACCIDENT ON RAILWAY.

This morning just before the seven o'clock train for Mount Vernon on the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway left this city, a young man named Lloyd Solenberg, of Montreal, who had been visiting his brother who is a soldier at Fort Hunt, was on the car bidding him farewell. The car started and the young man attempted to alight while it was in motion between Prince and Duke streets and was thrown to the ground and badly bruised. He was taken to the Alexandria Hospital where his injuries were attended by Drs. Gorman and Smith. Thornburg man received a scalp wound and other injuries.

RUBBERS FOUND.

Two colored boys found about 18 pairs of rubbers on a dump at the northern end of Pitt street a day or two ago. The shoes were taken to the station house by Officer Rawlett, and are held for the rightful owner. They were evidently stolen and placed where found

MASS MEETING.

A mass meeting of the democratic voters will be held at Sarepta Hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock to effect an organization of a Bryan, Kern and Berlin Club. Col. F. L. Smith is spoken of as president and at present there seems to be no opposition to his selection.

REPORTED SUICIDE.

A young business man of this city went to Washington yesterday to invite a young woman to go on an excursion with him. He found she had more congenial company and he returned home. Later it was reported that she committed suicide just after he left Washington. The woman formerly lived in this city.

On Saturdays our city market is the mecca for a great majority of Alexandrians, and there're very few of our citizens who come to market that don't visit the Auth stand.

THRILLING RESCUE.

Yesterday on the occasion of the Elks' Dramatic Club's excursion Messrs. C. B. Marshall and F. C. Spinks had occasion to leave the stake boat in a launch belonging to Mr. Jack Austin to accompany the judges to their boat on the arrival of the Macalester at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. As they were returning by some mistake Captain Austin in moving about the boat fell overboard and but for the presence of mind of Messrs. Spinks and Marshall would today be a dead one. The main danger was that of getting under the boat. When he arose to the surface nothing could be seen but the top of his head and that being minus of hair these rescuers had to reach deep in order to save him.

CAUSE OF DELAY.

The work of erecting the new First National Bank building on King street has been somewhat delayed by the non-arrival of the stone to be used for the front. The first shipment of the stone was made from Alexandria on Tuesday and is expected here daily, and the other shipment will soon follow.

POLICE COURT.

Only one case presented itself at Police Court this morning and that was of an incorrigible colored boy. Justice Caton decided to send him to the reform school and he will be held awaiting a guard from that institution.

BACK TO ALEXANDRIA.

Ed. Baltimore, a little negro, who was arrested here a few days ago on the charge of trespassing on the railroad, will be sent back to Alexandria, from which city he ran away about three weeks ago. The little pickaninny caused the police of Lynchburg a lot of trouble before he was subdued. He claims that an older negro led him to leave Alexandria.—[Lynchburg News.

When Chief Goods learned that the boy was in Lynchburg he sent word to the police in that city to send the boy back home. He reached here this evening.

An unidentified man climbed upon the railing of the Aqueduct bridge, 250 feet from the District shore, early this morning, and jumped into the Potomac. No one saw him reappear, and, although several persons hurried to the spot in boats, no trace of the man could be found. A straw hat, supposed to be his, was picked up subsequently, having been carried far down stream by the swift current. Later the body was recovered.

In a letter to the District of Columbia commissioners upon the question of the location of a railway substation in southwest Washington, John W. Echols, mayor of Vienna, Va., declares that it is almost the unanimous desire of the Virginia commuters to have the station located on the site between 7th and 4½ streets, Washington, which location is favored by Commissioners Macfarland and West although bitterly opposed by Commissioner Morrow. The latter favors the site at 14th and Water streets.

A Substitute.

Mrs. Millsap's new girl, who never had gone out to service before and had had scarcely any experience as a cook, appeared to be willing and industrious and was quick to learn. In view of her inexperience she had readily agreed to work for $3.50 a week. Mrs. Millsap, who was an expert cook, had taken much pains with her education in that line, and at the end of five or six weeks Jemima was equal to any demands upon her in the line of kitchen work. The mistress was greatly surprised, therefore, when the maid one morning gave her a week's notice.

"What does this mean, Jemima?" she asked. "Haven't I treated you fairly?"

"Yes, ma'am," answered the girl, "but I've learned how to cook now, and I've found a place where I can get $5 a week right at the start."

"You didn't ask me to raise your wages. Do you think you are acting fairly with me?"

"Oh, I'm going to do the square thing with you, Mrs. Millsap," said Jemima. "I've got a sister about a year younger than I am, and she's perfectly willing to come here and work for $3.50 a week—till she learns cooking anyhow."—Youth's Companion.

Trivial Cause of a Bloody War.

In the year 1654 a Polish nobleman became obnoxious to the laws of his country by reason of his having committed a crime. He fled to Sweden, whereupon John Casimir, king of Poland, wrote to Charles Gustavus, king of Sweden, demanding the surrender of the criminal. The king of Sweden on reading the dispatch noticed that his own name and titles were followed by two "et ceteras," while the name of the king of Poland was followed by three. The missing "et cetera" so enraged the king of Sweden that he at once declared war against Poland. The war was carried on with great bitterness until 1660, when a peace was signed at Oliva, near Danzig. A contemporary writer (Kochowsky) poured out his lamentations on the war in these terms: "How dear has this 'et cetera' been to us! With how many lives have these two potentates paid for these missing eight letters! With what streams of blood has the failure of a few drops of ink been avenged!"

A Horse's Toe Nails.

Few persons realize that a horse's hoof is really the same thing as the toe nails of human beings or of animals having toes. The horn of a hoof grows just as a toe nail does. The hoof grows more rapidly in unshod horses than in those wearing shoes, and it grows faster in horses which are well groomed and well fed. But on an average the horn grows about a third of an inch a month. Hind hoofs grow faster than fore hoofs. The toe of the hoof being the longest part, it takes longer for the horn to grow down there than at the heel. For instance, the toe will grow entirely down in from eleven to thirteen months, while the heel will grow down in from three to five months. As the new horn grows out any cracks or defects in the old gradually work down to where they can be cut off, just as with human finger nails you can watch the progress of a bruise from the roof to the tip.—New York Sun.

Dictionary Users Modest.

"Men are never so modest as when they go to use a dictionary," remarked an attendant at the public library. "As a rule, when you see a man go to a public dictionary or one in any place where other people are around you'll see him look about furtively as if in fear somebody might see him. Men who make no pretensions at having any great amount of knowledge nevertheless seem to be embarrassed to have any one think that they do not know the pronunciation or meaning of some English word. The next time you see a man looking up a word in the dictionary just ask him what it is he is looking up and see if he will tell you. You'll find in at least nine cases out of ten that he won't tell you. He's afraid you'll know it and have the fun of enlightening him."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Bibliophile's Reply.

Mandell Creighton, who was bishop of London, had a horror of lending his favorite books. A fellow clergyman once visited the bishop and took a fancy to an old edition of Shakespeare. He borrowed the volume and did not think to return it for several months. Finally the minister returned it with a letter, saying, "My Dear Bishop—I have great pleasure in returning the volume you lent me."

The bishop answered, "My Dear Brother—All the joy is mine."

Her Progress.

"The last time I saw you you were complaining about your servant being so slow."

"Oh, she's progressing now."

"Is she really?"

"Yes. She's getting slower and slower."—Exchange.

The Realistic Actor.

"Does he believe in realism?"

"Yes. But he carries it to excess. In the second scene he is severely wounded, and he has a doctor issue bulletins between the acts."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Hot Retort.

The Writer—Ah, laugh at me if you will, but I will write of you in my journal that which will make you sick! The Artist—Everything that m'sieur writes makes me sick.—Life.
